GIG International School,
Singapore E-Newsletter

Dear GIG International School Family,

As we reflect on the past months at GIG International School, I am immensely proud to acknowledge the remarkable progress our students, staff, and wider school community have made in championing sustainability. Embedded as a vital quadrant of our 4Q Learning Framework, sustainability continues to shape our school's ethos, inspiring action, responsibility, and thoughtful engagement with the environment.

This term, our Green Committee demonstrated exceptional initiative by participating in Singapore's OneMillionTrees movement, contributing meaningfully to the nationwide effort to restore greenery and enrich our natural environment. Our annual GIG Textile Donation Drive 2025, conducted in partnership with Greensquare Textile Recycling, further strengthened this commitment, with students, families, and staff coming together to donate pre-loved clothing, thereby fostering awareness about sustainable fashion and the importance of reducing textile waste.

We were also privileged to host an expert talk by NParks, which offered our students in-depth insights into Singapore's Park Connector Network and its rich biodiversity. This session not only deepened students' knowledge but also reinforced our collective responsibility to protect and preserve the natural spaces around us.

Our sustained dedication to environmental stewardship has once again been recognised at the School Green Awards, where GIG proudly received the Yellow Flame Award for the third consecutive year. This distinction reflects our outstanding performance—scoring between 80–90%—in key areas of campus sustainability and the successful implementation of impactful environmental initiatives. Additionally, GIG is honoured to be the only international school to receive the Best 3R Award in 2025, acknowledging our school-wide commitment to reduce, reuse, and recycle.

This year also marked a significant milestone with the launch of our first Inter-School Eco Forward Challenge, which expanded our sustainability efforts beyond GIG's walls. The competition encouraged young innovators to design and pitch eco-friendly solutions to real-world environmental challenges. GIG Singapore emerged as both Winner and Second Runner-Up, while GIG Bangalore secured the 1st Runner-Up position, showcasing thoughtful, practical, and impactful sustainable solutions. The contest highlighted the creativity, critical thinking, and problem-solving abilities of our students, reinforcing their potential as future changemakers in sustainability.

I wish to extend my heartfelt congratulations to all students, teachers, and staff who have contributed to these exemplary achievements. Together, we are fostering a school culture where environmental awareness is not only taught but actively lived, preparing our students to take meaningful action for a sustainable future.

As we move forward, let us continue to embrace sustainability not merely as an initiative, but as a way of thinking, learning, and living—ensuring that GIG remains at the forefront of environmental stewardship while nurturing the next generation of responsible global citizens.

With warm regards,
Ms. Sathiyamoorthy Parameshwari
